

The Daily Union Vedette.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 1865.

The News.

The dispatches from the East are voluminous and interesting. While no great culmination of events has as yet been reached the problem is evidently approaching a satisfactory solution as rapidly as could reasonably be expected. Bragg reports a trifling success with a characteristic flourish, that he tokens how great is the Confederate need of something to reinvigorate their collapsing courage. We suspect it will prove to be of that class of successes which Wheeler has been inflicting all along on Kilpatrick, according to rebel reports, there always being a mistake as to the party whipped.

On the other hand Sheridan has been repeating his practice upon Early and his spiritless crew, this time making a thorough finish of the whole concern. His force has struck the James River Canal, not without doing severe damage, as may be supposed. It is somewhat singular that this, the worst winter of the war, should be the most prolific of all in victories to our arms. Our armies continue to push their way in defiance alike of rain or rebels, because we have generals to lead them instead of military politicians, half coward and half traitor, like the Chickabomeny grave digger. It makes all the difference between success and defeat, triumph and humiliation.

Not the least gratifying of the news is that the brave Liberal Chief, the upholder of Freedom and Nationality in unhappy Mexico, Benito Juarez, in defiance of misfortune still presents a bold front to the foreign invader and gives ample employment to Maximilian's mercenary hords. Let him keep uplifted the banner of the Republic, yet a little longer, for legions that are invincible will soon come to the rescue. The drama is not quite ended, and to allow Mexico to be overthrown, would be to omit the closing act, which should leave Liberty everywhere triumphant, at least on American soil.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

New York, March 15th.

It appears by later news that the defense of Fort Myers, Florida, by the Union garrison, was a very brave one, and resulted in finally obliging the rebels to retreat. There were various reports at City Point and in Washington concerning Sheridan's movements. One says he entered Grant's lines north and east of Richmond, while another says he has kept on the southward, just west of Richmond.

The Herald's Washington special says: No doubt is entertained here that Sherman reached Fayetteville without an engagement of any kind, except cavalry skirmishes. He will be joined at Fayetteville by Schofield and be resupplied. Direct communication with Sherman, notwithstanding the boastings of the Richmond press, show they cannot stop his progress.

The Richmond Whig of the 13th says: Though it is well known there is a Yankee cavalry force raiding through some of the counties west of Richmond, on the Central railroad, under the advance of the War Department, it is deemed inexpedient to publish anything concerning their movements.

March 9th.

Trade is improving with a large number of buyers from all parts of the west. The call of the government for twenty thousand bags of coffee and the decrease of the crops in Brazil, have stimulated active speculation in all.

Government securities are in more active demand, the new loans being rapidly taken. In gold and stocks there is a broken market—gold, at 198, and no demand for remittance abroad, arising from a preponderance of exports over imports, and the constant drain of Government securities on foreign account. An impression prevails that the new Secretary will do something to bring down the price of gold. Foreign exchange is very weak—bankers' 60-day bills are offering at 108. Short sight bills, at 109. The money market is unsettled. Call for loans made at 7 per cent, and increasing caution is shown by lenders in view of the panicky condition of the market.

Washington, March 14th.

Dispatches direct from Sherman and Schofield were received this morning. Sherman's dispatch, dated the 8th, at Laurel Hill, N. C., he says: "We are all well and have done finely." Details are for obvious reasons omitted.

Gen. Schofield, in his dispatch dated the 12th, states that on the night of the 10th, near Southwest creek, Bragg was fairly beaten and that during the night he retired across the Neuse at Kinston, and now holds the banks of the river at that place. (Signed.) STANTON.

New York, March 14th.

The Herald's correspondent in front of Kinston the 11th, gives the following account of the fight there:

On Wednesday the 8th, the enemy, consisting of Hoke's division, made a determined effort to turn our left flank—they came up rather unexpectedly and furiously—and the consequence was a loss on our part of a large portion of two regiments, who were flanked by superior numbers. The left of the line was held by the 2d division of Gen. Carter's, which fought desperately, resorting to the bayonet when ammunition was exhausted; to compensate for the losses here, Col. Savage, of the 12th New York cavalry, made a detour on the rear and captured nearly 100 prisoners. The same afternoon an attack was made on our right and repulsed without loss. Night coming on the action ceased. Captain Fish, of the 12th New York cavalry, had lost two small howitzers, and Captain Kelsey's artillery had lost a Napoleon gun, and had taken, perhaps, 200 prisoners during the day. On Thursday morning, the 19th, Malley fully regained his original position and continued to hold it. The enemy charged upon him three times in the afternoon and were each time repulsed with severe loss. The forenoon was occupied with light skirmishing along the whole line. We still hold the original line, ample breastworks having been erected and stout hearts occupying them and the skirmish pits. All through the evening of the 9th and night and morning of the 9th and 10th, rebel fury again belched forth; they had evidently learned of something that urged them to unusual desperation, and we afterwards learned that it must have been the reception of intelligence by them that Couch was coming overland to join Cox. This of course necessitated the furious and speedy onset upon Cox, in order to annihilate him before Couch should come up. All night long they charged again and again, making six or seven different charges, amid the roar of musketry and cannon that was deafening and terrible as it swept and swayed through the night air. They drove our skirmish line from their rifle-pits to the breastworks and seemed determined to pour their hordes over into these, but the wave was sent bounding back, time after time, and finally on the morning of the 10th, as they attempted another flank movement upon our left, it is said we took from them an entire regiment of Alabamians. From this time their ardor began to diminish and yesterday afternoon when I left the immediate scene of action there was every prospect that we would soon regain the skirmish pits and win a handsome victory over the maddened foe. We have probably taken, from the commencement up to last evening, not far from 2,000 prisoners. Our entire loss from the commencement, in killed, wounded and prisoners, cannot be over 2,000.

New York, 14th.

The Herald's Washington special, dated the 13th, says: The military situation, to-night, is understood to be more promising than at any period during the war. Richmond papers, to-day, are filled with doleful comments on the condition of affairs, which they represent as being desperate. Sheridan, they admit, has played the mischief with their avenues of supply. And fears are expressed that he will reach Burke's station unopposed, and destroy the last link between Richmond and any where else. It is believed here that Sheridan has already passed Burke's station, the junction of the Petersburg, Richmond and Danville roads, and gone, either, to Sherman or Grant. This saves Grant the trouble of cutting the South Side road, and leaves to Lee the alternative of starving or dividing his already defeated force, and open Richmond to a promenade from Grant.

Fortress Monroe, March 14th.

The steamer Champion arrived this morning from Wilmington the 11th, bringing definite intelligence respecting the movement of Sherman's force. On the morning of the 11th, scouts from Sherman reached Wilmington with the news that Sherman had reached Fayetteville, N. C., and was camped in the immediate vicinity, quietly resting and preparing for another march northward.

Newbern, N. C., March 12th.

Yesterday the enemy fell back across the Neuse River after burning the bridge over that stream. It is reported that they also destroyed the rebel ram at the same time, which was guarding the bridge. Timber is now going forward to rebuild the bridge, and the road is completed to within a short distance of the railroad opposite Kinston. The enemy won't be able to remain in Kinston long, even should they decide to make another stand, of which there is much doubt. Deserters and refugees continue to come into our lines. Our troops are in high spirits over the prospects of meeting Sherman soon. Gen. Sherman has opened communication with Wilmington from Fayetteville, and sends word that he is all right and marching on. We expect to hear gratifying news from him in a few days.

New York, March 15th.

The Commercial's special says: It is understood that Secretary McCulloch contemplates the issue of a new series of 7-30's under auspices of Jay, Cook & Co.

A dispatch dated, Newbern 11th, says: The prisoners taken by the rebels in front of Kinston, have been re-captured and that Gen. Terry has formed a junction with our forces there and that Sherman was expected in the rear of the rebels at Goldsboro on the 11th or 12th.

Washington, March 15th.

Information from the army of the Potomac says Sheridan is on his way to the White House.

The batteries at Fort Morton shelled the enemy's lines briskly on Monday and were replied to, but with no damage, so far as known.

Quebec, March 15th.

Parliament last night voted a million dollars for the permanent defense of the country; also $350,000 for the expenses of volunteers on the frontier.

The Finance Minister, in a speech, said the Canadian Government were of opinion that so long as the American war lasts we must have defense on the frontier in the shape of police and militia to support the civil authorities and fulfill the obligations we are under to act the part of good neighbors.

Additional per steamer: Queen Victoria has temporarily emerged from her seclusion by receiving foreign Ambassadors, members of Legations, etc., in state at Buckingham Palace. Adams, the American Minister, was present. The Queen will hold another Court on the 13th inst.

The King of Italy arrived at Milan on the 1st inst., and was received enthusiastically.

Cardinal Vicar, at Rome, has issued a declaration relative to the jubilee; he reverts to the object of the Pope's Encyclical letter and particularizes as especially deplorable the errors of liberty of consciences and religious worship being recognized as the just right of all to propagate through the press erroneous principles, nor can he recognize that the will of the people is supreme law. The mother of the Queen of Holland died at Hague on the 1st inst.

Department of State.

Washington, 14th.

The President directs that all persons who are now, or hereafter shall be found within the U. S., or who have been engaged in holding intercourse or trade with insurgents by sea, if they are citizens of the U. S. or domiciled aliens, be arrested and held as prisoners of war until the war shall close; subject, nevertheless, to prosecution, trial and conviction, for any offense committed by them, as spies, or otherwise against the laws of war.

The President further directs, that all non residents and foreigners, who now are, or hereafter shall be found in the U. S. and who have been engaged in violating the blockade of the insurgent ports, shall leave the U. S. within 12 days from the publication of this order, or from the subsequent trial in the U. S. if on the Atlantic side, and 40 days if on the Pacific side of the country; and such persons shall not return to the U. S. during the continuance of the war.

Provost Marshals and Marshals of the U. S. will arrest and commit to military custody all such offenders as shall disregard this order, whether they have passports or not; and they will be detained in such custody until the end of the war, or until discharged by subsequent order of the President.

(Signed) WM. H. SEWARD,
Sec'y of State.

Providence, R. I., March 15th.

The Union State Convention has nominated Jas. G. Smith, for re-election for Governor.

New York, 15th.

The Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall, the 17th, bringing half a million in treasure, has arrived. The last news from Central America was unimportant. A rumor was received from Ecuador to the effect that there is likely to be trouble between that State and the U. S.

Of Columbia, the most important item of news is, that the Peruvian Gov't has seized Ex-President Castilla, Generalissimo of Peru, on a charge of attempting to get up a revolution, and have sent him off to sea; it is not known where, but it is supposed to China.

The war between Brazil and the Republics of Uruguay and Paraguay is raging fiercely.

The steamer Sacramento arrived at Panama from San Francisco on the 7th, with a report from Acapulca, which says a general has deserted Maximilian and joined the Republicans.

The iron wharf at Aspinwall has proved a failure.

New Orleans, March 9th.

Great fears are entertained of the crevasse opposite this city, which will prove very destructive should it occur.

Baton Rouge, March 9th.

The cavalry expedition sent from here occupied Clinton and Jackson, La., after some heavy skirmishing, in which we lost ten or fifteen in killed and wounded, inflicting loss on the enemy of thirty or forty, and some prisoners, including two officers. The roads over which our forces passed are in a terrible condition: bridges are built over nearly every bayou. The rebel force is concentrating at Liberty, under Genls. Hodge and Scott.

Information from Meridian states that Forrest was at Macon last Monday, in command of about one thousand men. Great activity prevailed in that department, and Forrest was rapidly adding to and organizing his forces.

The rebel Gen. Barkhead was recently taken prisoner at Rodney, Miss., and sent to New Orleans. He was en route from Richmond to report to Kirby Smith at the time of his capture.

Louisville, March 15th.

Jerome Clark alias Sue Munday, was hanged this afternoon in pursuance of the sentence of a military commission.

New York, March 15th.

A letter from the Department of the Gulf indicates an expedition against Mobile as already begun.

The Tribune's special says: One of the most celebrated fighting regiments of New York, with every officer from its Colonel down, have taken a vow to serve the popular cause in Mexico as soon as they are out of the war with the rebels.

It is positively asserted that Senator Wilkinson will not be appointed to the Indian bureau.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe to the Navy Department merely announces Kinston in our possession, giving no particulars.

Local Matters.

We would call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Walker Bros. and Ranshoff & Co., in which they, fully alive to the true interests of the trade and ever ready to act in accordance with the times, have made the reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the prices of their goods.

Their houses are well filled with large and well selected stocks, besides heavy trains on the road.

These firms have ever stood as two of the most enterprising among the mercantile community of Salt Lake City, and either at wholesale or retail their prices are always fair and reasonable. They are fully prepared for the spring trade, and farmers, miners, mechanics and country merchants will find it their advantage to purchase at the above houses. We would say to the ladies, if they wish anything nice or substantial in the line dress goods, that Walker Bros. and Ranshoff & Co. will be pleased to show their goods, and they will suit you, if suited you can be. Only give them a call and the quality and prices of their wares cannot fail of pleasing you.

Mr. LYNE, the eminent Tragedian, supported by Mr. Geo. Pauncefort and others, will give one of their pleasing entertainments on Monday evening next, at the 13th Ward Assembly Room, G. E. Lake City. All who appreciate Star acting, should not fail to attend.

LYNE'S BENEFIT, MONDAY NIGHT, AT THE 13TH WARD ASSEMBLY ROOM—A great variety bill, in which Mr. Pauncefort, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Lindsay, Fred Taylor and Mr. Lyne will appear for the last time. See bills of the day.

SHOES, of the United States Saloon is very accommodating to all who indulge. He is now doing a large business at wholesale and retail. We hear the U. S. pronounced the best saloon in town.

GRAY, of the Salt Lake City News Depot, has all the papers of the day, besides a fine collection of novels and other reading matter, for sale or hire on reasonable terms.

ANTONIO, at the "Lunch House," is hurrying up the hot meals at all seasonable hours. Antonio knows how to set a good table, one that fairly groans with the viands of the Salt Lake City Market.

We trust that the meagreness of our local (column?) will be overlooked this morning, after our recent and resolute "Union victory."

PAT FINEGAN'S wife was a very vixen, and gave him no peace of his life. One day, after a quarrel, in which he was ejected from his shanty by his better half, he enlisted as a volunteer. Being accosted by an acquaintance with—"Well, Patrick, they say you are going in for the war." "No," said he; "I am going for peace?"

THERE is not a little generalship required in the managing and marshalling of our pleasures, so that each shall not mutually encroach to the destruction of all. For pleasures are very voracious, too apt to worry one another, and each, like Aaron's serpent, is prone to swallow up the rest.

A YOUNG lady advertises in the Cleveland Plaindealer for a young man to act as amanuensis. He must be able to write in cypher, and when not engaged will be expected to read poetry with feeling, converse with ease, play cribbage.

To make hens lay perpetually, hit them on the head with a club. Some other modes have been recommended, but this is the only one found to be effectual.

WHY are shipwrecked sailors the most inconsistent of human beings? Because in the hope of escaping death, they lash themselves to their shrouds.

WOMEN are more liberal than men. Many a husband grudges his wife a dress, but few wives are averse to giving their husbands a dressing.

THE whole number of men actually furnished by Massachusetts for the army and navy, up to the first day of December, 1864, was 125,437.

A Jerseyman was lately arrested for flogging a woman, and excused the act by saying he was near-sighted, and thought she was his wife.

A POULTRY PHOTOGRAPHER.—Half-a-crown, paid by a poor maid servant for a portrait so abominably bad that she cried, and would not take it away.

THE easiest and best way to expand the chest is to have a good large heart in it. It saves the cost of gymnastics.

COMMISSIONER Boutwell has decided that a marriage certificate is invalid unless stamped with a ten-cent stamp.
